

Journal of the Historical Society of South Australia

Number 42 2014

Editor: Dr Peter Monteath

Table of Contents

President's Report 2014	1
The Professional Midwife: Adelaide's Destitute Asylum and midwifery in South Australia 1880-1900 Bronte Gould	5
1848 and All That: early South Australia and the Cornish radical tradition Philip Payton	17
Lois Quarrell: a notable mid-20th-century journalist and her impact P A Howell	29
Italians in the Civil Alien Corps in South Australia: the 'forgotten' enemy aliens Daniela Cosmini-Rose	43
The Torrens Island Internment Camp: law, history and the treatment of 'enemy aliens' in South Australia in World War One Rebecca Martin	53
The First Commercial Wine Vineyard Planted in South Australia Julie Holbrook Tolley	71
'Mrs Moore is most energetic and devoted to her work': Bessie Moore 1859-1923, a career public servant Margrette Kleinig	81
The Afforestation Proposal for Kangaroo Island During World War One Bridget Jolly	96
'MRS. HILLIER begs to inform ... the Public of Adelaide that she has opened a SCHOOL': education in the early years of settlement in South Australia Kay Whitehead	111
Notes on Contributors	122
Book Reviews	123
Presidents of the Society and Editors of the Journal	137
Publications of the Historical Society of South Australia, 1974-2014	138
About the Society	139