

Journal of the Historical Society of South Australia

Number 43 2015

Editor: Dr Peter Monteath

Table of Contents

President's Report 2015	1
'The Drought is worrying people here far worse than the war': Letters between Hamley Bridge and Ireland during the Great War Stephanie James	5
Alison Gent and the Women's Liberation Movement Lesley McLean	17
The Trials and Tribulations of 'Tommy' (aka Jumbo or Rajah): South Australia's first elephant, 1851-1858 Patricia Sumerling	33
Captain Matthew Flinders RN, Scientist Anwyn M Martin	43
The Salt Creek Murders: Violence and resilience in early South Australian settlement Gary Robinson	53
'Exile' Poles Struggling for the 'Hearts and Minds' of Children and Youth in South Australia, 1949-1959 Adrian Rudzinski	69
'To Brave a Thousand Cornishmen': The role of Cornish identity in opposition to government intervention at Moonta Mines Ella Stewart-Peters	87
The Injustice of the 1914 Assault on Hermann Heinicke Julja I Szuster	99
The 'Industrial Classes' in a Liberal Utopia: 'The Industrial Principle' in the inaugural 1851 South Australian Legislative Council election David Faber	111
Notes on Contributors	123
Book Reviews	125
About the Society	140